

Camp manager — WeCamp No1

Want to be part of a new movement in the recreational travel industry? We're looking for a camp manager for our eco-friendly pilot camp near Basel/ Switzerland! Where great work meets an amazing life experience.

Where exactly

Schwoerstadt/ Germany - about 30 mins drive from Basel/ Switzerland

When

Full time for 6 months, from May 2019 through October 2019

The role

You will manage a camp of up to 12 furnished tents, a community lounge, a large fireplace and much more. You will delight customers and make the camp run like a smooth machine.

You're the face of WeCamp for local guests, you check them in, show them around the camp and help with questions. You help coordinate and support cleaning of the common spaces and camp rooms, you keep the camp organized, you coordinate multiple stakeholders for events.

What we are looking for

- You love spending time with people, welcoming them, helping them with questions, giving them a camp tour
- You love spending time in nature and it does wonders to your soul
- You work independently and are highly reliable
- You're hands-on and are ready to get your hands dirty if need be
- You are permitted to work in the European Union
- You speak fluent English (and ideally German)

Ideal experience

- You have worked in customer services, e.g. the front of the house in a restaurant or hotel or in retail
- You have some handyman skills to help keeping the camp in shape (not a must)

What we offer

- Exposure and close collaboration with two seasoned startup veterans
- High pace, high impact environment when we together push the boundaries of furthering camp design, offering, and operational processes
- Free accommodation at the camp
- Fair pay
- Performance bonuses and rewards
- Potential to earn stock package
- Online hospitality training and career development opportunities
- Discount for friends and family members when they stay at WeCamp
- Potential further opportunities to help us grow

Who we are

WeCamp is an ecosystem that is combining the adventure of sleeping outdoors, with beautifully designed accommodation, and authentic hospitality enriched by deep, lasting experiences. Our mission is to connect millions of urban people with local nature where you can feel better, healthier and happier.

Contact

tobias@wecamp.co, +4915731991151, LinkedIn